Who is Healthy Male?

Healthy Male is a national organisation that provides easy access to the latest scientific and medical research on male health.

We empower men and boys to prioritise their health, work to build the capabilities of the health system and workforce through free professional development.

In everything we do, our aim is to make the information we provide available to everybody. To do this, we collaborate with Australia's leading researchers, specialists, clinicians and educators to develop information that fills the gaps in men's health.

Healthy Male is a registered charity and all donations over $2 are tax deductible.
